In response to the recent pandemic (COVID-19), the Mountain Plains Mental Health Technology Transfer Center (MHTTC) has developed a list of resources for college faculty and staff to assist in promoting mental health wellbeing during the COVID-19 pandemic. The Mountain Plains MHTTC serves a six-state region. Funded by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), the Center is focused on providing free training, products, and technical assistance to individuals serving persons with mental health disorders.

Mental Health Resources for College and University Faculty and Staff to Support Student Mental Health During COVID-19

Mountain Plains Mental Health Technology Transfer Center Past Trainings and Events
The center has a series of archived trainings on helping colleges respond to mental health needs in light of the COVID-19 pandemic. Webinars address supporting college students now and as campuses return to the new normal. A series on telehealth is also available.

Active Minds: Mental Health Amid the COVID-10 Pandemic
Active Minds provides resources for students, young adults, remote workers, schools, and communities. Creating a Culture of Caring is a particularly useful tool for faculty wishing to use practical strategies for supporting student health and well-being.

Hope Center for College, Community and Justice
The Hope Center for College, Community, and Justice document provides an overview of resources available for students connecting them to resources for healthcare, food, housing, and financial concerns.

Jed Foundation
The Jed Foundation provides a range of COVID-19 resources for higher education professionals. The website offers a webinar targeting faculty and the transition to the online environment with strategies for promoting a classroom environment that supports mental wellbeing. The discussion offers considerations for the larger college campus. The website also provides trainings for supporting students, and broad strategies for communicating during the pandemic.

Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA)
SAMHSA provides a host of COVID-19 resources that are updated on a regular basis and include both recommendations and considerations for intervention, as well as funding opportunities.

Maintaining Mental Health During Coronavirus
Dealing with stress and anxiety during COVID-19 is overwhelming for students, faculty, and staff. This website provides a variety of creative strategies for connecting, helping a friend, and engaging in self-care.
