Welcome to our virtual conference! The transition back to school this year will be unlike any before. The pandemic has been challenging for students and educators. We want to help you meet your students’ mental health needs, while also taking care of yourselves. We’re happy you’ve chosen to join us to learn more about these critical topics.

This conference is made available through the Northeast and Caribbean Mental Health Technology Transfer Center (MHTTC) and the Mental Health Association in New York State, Inc. (MHANYS).

The Northeast and Caribbean MHTTC is located at Rutgers, Department of Psychiatric Rehabilitation and Counseling Professions and is funded by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) to support and enhance the mental health workforce throughout federal region 2 (i.e., New Jersey, New York, Puerto Rico, and the US Virgin Islands). We offer FREE training and consultation directly to schools and community organizations affiliated with schools to enhance their capacity to address student mental health.

MHANYS successfully advocated for the passage of a NY state law requiring schools to provide mental health education as part of their health curricula. MHANYS believes that it is imperative for educators to have an understanding of mental health and wellness, for schools to be prepared to respond to the mental health needs of students, and for communities to work together to support access. The School Mental Health Resource Training Center provides student education, staff development, collaboration, and consultation to support these efforts.

Sessions

Accessing Sessions
We hope you will join as many sessions as possible. Below and on the following page you will find descriptions of each session, when they are available, and a zoom link to attend each session. Please note there is a separate link for each session. Please keep this program handy so you can easily access each session.

Breaks
We have built in breaks between sessions so you can attend all sessions and still move around, stretch, have your lunch, and practice self-care. Please note the start and end times for each session.

Your Feedback is Very Important!
We are very interested in your input. Please take a minute or two after each session to complete our brief survey. You will be redirected to the survey following each session. Direct links to the surveys are also available under each session.

Wednesday, August 19, 2020

Session 1: 9:00 am - 10:00 am ET
Welcome and Mental Health: Through the Eyes of a Teenager
Ann Murphy, Ph.D., CFRP, Amy Malloy, MSW, M.Ed., Caroline Shea

Description:
Directors of the Northeast and Caribbean MHTTC and the MHANYS will provide a brief welcome and orientation to the conference. Our keynote speaker will share her perspective as a 2020 high school graduate and the sister of a student living with a mental health condition. She has learned some tips and tricks that are more personal and less clinical, but are none the less very important to keep in mind as we focus on student mental health.

Session 2: 10:15 am - 11:30 am ET
SEL Techniques and Tools for Adults and Students: The Foundation for Successful Learning, Remote or In-person
Liz Warner, Erica Brentan, M.Ed, Patricia Heindel, Ph.D.

Description:
As educators’ attention turns toward preparing for reopening schools in the fall, it is critical that the priority be on providing social-emotional and mental health supports for all staff, students, and families. The presenters will share tools and resources for increasing adult and student social-emotional competencies and for creating learning environments that promote a sense of belonging and safety.

Session 3: Noon - 1:15 pm ET
When School Starts Back: Helping Students Cope with Crisis and Loss during the COVID-19 Pandemic
David Schoenfeld, MD, FAAP

Description:
This session provides practical advice on how to help students understand and cope with the current COVID-19 pandemic and how to support grieving students. Participants will be introduced to free on-line professional developmental materials from the Coalition to Support Grieving Students at http://www.grieving-students.org. Together, we will consider how best to support students during this evolving pandemic.

Sesson 2: 1:00 pm - 2:30 pm

A Mindfulness Approach to Educator Wellness: Developing Acceptance Skills and Strengthen Commitment to Act

Imad Zaheer, Ph.D.

Description:
Todd Whitaker said “The best thing about being a teacher is that it matters. The hardest thing about being a teacher is that it matters everyday”. This is even more true today with COVID-19, racial unrest and uncertainty and fear as we go back into the new school year. This presentation will help provide mindfulness strategies based on Acceptance & Commitment Training (ACT) to help develop more flexibility in the face of stress and commit to taking action towards what matters to you.
