

COMING HOME to PRIMARY CARE

Pediatric Integrated Health

The Road to Primary Care: Several Paths to Coming Home

12-1 p.m. CT Friday, Aug. 28, 2020

This session will focus on models of integrated behavioral health care with emphasis on the Primary Care model. Speakers will present the importance of communication with the primary care team and communication strategies such as warm hand-offs and hallway consultations. The benefits of utilizing these strategies will be highlighted as ways to promote collaboration, increase attendance rates for patients and provide the type and brevity of communication needed in a busy primary care clinic.

Learning Objectives:

- Identify core features of interprofessional collaborative care models and the primary care models of integrated care with a focus on behavioral health
- Describe considerations for selecting an integrated care model that best suits the clinic/organization
- Describe elements of formal and in-formal communication and collaboration amongst the primary care team related to both models of integrated care

Continuing Education Credits
+ Certificates
of Completion
AVAILABLE!

Target Audience:

Behavioral health providers (psychologists, masters level counselors, social workers etc.), primary care providers (physicians, NPs, PAs) and Nurses (RNs).

Register Now

Learn More About the Webinar Series

Accreditation and Credit Designation Statement

The University of Nebraska Medical Center, Center for Continuing Education is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The University of Nebraska Medical Center, Center for Continuing Education designates this live activity for a maximum of 1.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits[™]. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

The University of Nebraska Medical Center College of Nursing Continuing Nursing Education is accredited with distinction as a provider of nursing continuing professional development by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation. This activity is provided for 1.0 contact hour under ANCC criteria.

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation (ANCC) through the joint providership of the University of Nebraska Medical Center College of Nursing Continuing Nursing Education (UNMC CON CNE) (provider) , University of Nebraska Medical Center, Center for Continuing Education, and Mid-America MHTTC.

